1. Professor Robin Warner

Professor

Australian National Centre for Ocean Resources and Security University of Wollongong

Dr Robin Warner is a Professor at the Australian National Centre for Ocean Resources and Security. She was formerly the Assistant Secretary of the International Crime Branch of the Criminal Justice Division in the Commonwealth Attorney General's Department from 2002 to 2006. During that period she led twelve Australian delegations to bilateral and multilateral delegations on transnational crime and criminal justice cooperation issues. Previously she served with the Royal Australian Navy as a legal officer. During her Defence Force legal career, Captain Warner occupied a wide range of positions including Director of International Law for the Australian Defence Force and Deputy Director of Naval Legal Services. She graduated as a PhD from the University of Sydney in November 2006. Her doctoral research concerned the international law framework for protection of the marine environment and conservation of marine biodiversity beyond national jurisdiction.

She is the author of Protecting the Oceans Beyond National Jurisdiction: Strengthening the International Law Framework (Martinus Nijhoff Publishers, Leiden, 2009), editor (with Simon Marsden) of Transboundary Environmental Governance: Inland, Marine and Coastal Perspectives (Ashgate Publishers, Farnham, Surrey, 2012), editor (with Clive Schofield) of Climate Change and the Oceans: Gauging the Legal and Policy Currents in the Asia Pacific and Beyond (Edward Elgar Publishers, Cheltenham, UK, 2012) and editor (with Stuart Kaye) of the Routledge Handbook of Maritime Regulation and Enforcement (routledge, Abingdon, Oxfordshire, 2015). She has published numerous articles in international peer reviewed journals and chapters in books on international law and policy.

2. William (Bill) Paterson

Mr Paterson has held senior positions in the Australian Government with responsibility for counter-terrorism, international strategic and security policy, politico-military affairs, intelligence and regional issues, particularly in Asia and the Middle East.

He is currently Senior United States analyst in the Office of National Assessments (ONA), and Australian senior official for MIKTA. From 2013 to 2016, he was Ambassador to the Republic of Korea (ROK), dually accredited to North Korea and Mongolia. Mr Paterson was Australia's representative on the United Nations Command (UNC) for Korea and worked closely with US forces Korea (USFK), positioning Australia as a key security partner to both the US and ROK. He led the campaign to deliver the Korea-Australia Free Trade Agreement in 2013, and worked closely on resources trade issues.

From 2008-13, he was Australian Ambassador for Counter-Terrorism and Head of the International Security Division in Australia's Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT), undertaking frequent missions in the Middle East, South and Southeast Asia, the US and Europe, and working closely with Australian agencies and the federal-state national CT committee. Mr Paterson was earlier Australian Ambassador to Thailand (2004-08), and led Australia's disaster response to the 2004 Asian tsunami. Before that, he was Head of the Southeast Asia Division in DFAT in 2003-04. He has led DFAT's International Security Division for three separate periods.

Following the events of September 11, 2001, Mr Paterson was appointed Head of the Australian Government's Anti-Terrorism Task Force. He subsequently became Head of the Government's Iraq Task Force (2002-03). He served as Chief of Staff and Principal Adviser to the Foreign Minister in 2000. Mr Paterson was Assistant Secretary (Asia) in the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet in 1998-99, during both the Asian financial crisis and East Timor crisis, advising the Prime Minister on APEC, trade policy and regional issues. He has worked on global intelligence issues for the Office of National Assessments and was for four years ONA's representative to the US intelligence community in Washington.

Mr Paterson has had long-term postings in Dhaka, Baghdad, Vienna, Washington, Tokyo, Bangkok and Seoul. He is currently a Visiting Fellow at the Australian National University (ANU), a Fellow of the Australian Institute of Management, a member of the Australian Institute of Company Directors and is an adviser to the Asian Disaster Preparedness Centre. He has been a member of the Fulbright Commission, and the Board of the Global Terrorism Research Centre at Monash University. He is currently on the executive of the Australia-Korea Business Council (AKBC).

In 2003, he was awarded the Public Service Medal and in 2005 the Humanitarian Overseas Service Medal.

3. Professor Michael Wesley

Director

Coral Bell School of Asia Pacific Affairs

Australian National University

Michael Wesley is Professor of International Affairs and Director of the Coral Bell School of Asia Pacific Affairs at the Australian National University. His career has spanned academia, with various appointments at the University of New South Wales, Griffith University, the University of Hong Kong, Sun Yat-sen University and the University of Sydney; government, where he worked as Assistant Director General for Transnational Issues at the Office of National Assessments; and think tanks, in which he was Executive Director of the Lowy Institute for International Policy and a Non-Resident Senior Fellow at the Brookings Institution.

Professor Wesley has also served as the Editor in Chief of the Australian Journal of International Affairs. He is a Non-Executive Member of the Senior Leadership Group of the Australian Federal Police and a Member of the NSW/ACT Advisory Board for CEDA. #### 4. Professor Rory Medcalf

Head of College
National Security College
Australian National University

Professor Rory Medcalf has been Head of the National Security College at the Australian National University since January 2015. He has led the expansion of the College into policy engagement as well as education, executive development and research. His professional background involves more than two decades of experience across diplomacy, intelligence analysis, think tanks and journalism including a formative role as Director of the International Security Program at the Lowy Institute.

In government, Professor Medcalf worked as a senior strategic analyst with the Office of National Assessments, Canberra's peak intelligence analysis agency. He was also an Australian diplomat, with wide experience including a posting to New Delhi, a secondment to the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs, truce monitoring after the civil conflict in Bougainville and policy development on Asian security institutions. He has contributed to three landmark reports on nuclear arms control: the 1996 Canberra Commission, 1999 Tokyo Forum and 2009 International Commission on Nuclear Non-proliferation and Disarmament. His earlier work in journalism was commended in Australia's leading media awards, the Walkleys.

Professor Medcalf has been prominent in developing Australia's relations with India. He has been Associate Director of the Australia-India Institute and Senior Research Fellow in Indian Strategic Affairs at the University of New South Wales. He is the founding convener and co-chair of the Australia-India Policy Forum, an influential informal dialogue between the two countries.

Professor Medcalf was a member of the expert panel providing independent advice on the Australian Government's 2016 Defence White Paper. His research areas include Australia's security challenges, the further development of an Indo-Pacific concept of the Asian strategic environment, China-India relations, and prospects for maritime and nuclear stability in Indo-Pacific Asia, on which he has led projects funded by the MacArthur Foundation.

Professor Medcalf is a member of editorial boards of Asia Policy and the Australian Journal of International Affairs. He is a Non-resident Senior Fellow in Foreign Policy with the Brookings Institution in Washington DC and retains affiliations as a Non-resident Fellow with the Lowy Institute for International Policy and the Seapower Centre of the Royal Australian Navy.

AMBASSADOR SHAMSHAD AHMAD KHAN
Former Foreign Secretary of Pakistan
E-mail: shamshad2001@hotmail.com

Ambassador Shamshad Ahmad Khan is a veteran Pakistani Diplomat who held his country's top diplomatic position as Pakistan's Foreign Secretary during an extraordinary period in its history (1997-2000). In this capacity, he co-authored with his Indian counterpart in June 1997 the India-Pakistan peace process familiarly known as Composite Dialogue.

Shamshad Ahmad also served as Pakistan's Ambassador to South Korea (1987-1990), Iran (1990-1992), as Secretary-General of the Economic Cooperation Organization (ECO) (1992-1996), and as Pakistan's Ambassador and Permanent Representative to the United Nations (2000-2002). At professional level from 1965 to 1987, he served in various posts at headquarters in Islamabad and in Pakistan Missions in Tehran, Dakar, Paris, Washington and New York.

As ECO Secretary-General, he was instrumental in its transformation from a trilateral entity (Iran, Pakistan and Turkey) into a major 10-member regional cooperation with the induction of seven new members, namely, Afghanistan, Azerbaijan, Kyrgyzstan, Kazakhstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan.

During his tenure as Ambassador to the UN, he co-chaired the United Nation's Preparatory Committee on Financing for Development (Ffd) and the UN General Assembly's Working Group on Conflict Prevention and Sustainable Development in Africa (2000-2002). He also served as Senior Consultant to the UN on economic and social matters (2002-2004).

Member of ASEAN Regional Forum (ARF) Experts and Eminent Persons group since 2006.

Shamshad Ahmad has authored two books 'Dreams Unfulfilled' (2009) and 'Pakistan and World Affairs' (2014) and has also been contributing to Pakistan's major English and Urdu newspapers. His articles were also published in Washington Times, Foreign Affairs Magazine and Cambridge University Review of International Affairs (CRIA).

As head of this office, he was associated with all important negotiations conducted by the Minister. From 1996-1998, he was Additional Foreign Secretary, in charge of the Americas and Europe Divisions. Later he moved to the Prime Minister's Office, where he was in charge of Defence, Defence Production, Atomic Energy Programs and Foreign Affairs. In 1999, he was promoted to the highest rank in the country's civil service, that of a Federal Secretary.

He was a delegate to the UN General Assembly Sessions from 1982 to 1986 and has also attended numerous Non-Aligned and OIC Summits and Conferences. He was also a member of the UN sponsored Geneva negotiations on Afghanistan from 1982-1986.

He has served as High Commissioner (Ambassador) of Pakistan to Zimbabwe, with concurrent accreditation to Angola, Botswana, Namibia and Zambia. Later, he also served as Ambassador to the United States, Jordan, Belgium and Luxembourg and as Head of Mission to the European Union, from where he returned to Pakistan in July 2004, on having reached the age of retirement.

On return to Islamabad, he has joined the teaching faculty of the Foreign Service Academy, and writes for the daily Dawn and appears as a political analyst on TV and radio.

He is fluent in Russian and Bengali.

Biodata of Ambassador Javid Husain

Ambassador Javid Husain retired from the Foreign Service of Pakistan in March 2004 after a distinguished diplomatic career during which he served as the Ambassador of Pakistan to the Netherlands (1992-1995), the Republic of Korea (1995-1997) and Iran (1997-2003). During his posting at Tehran, he was also the Pakistan Permanent Representative to the Economic Cooperation Organization (ECO). His last posting was as the Head of the Pakistan Foreign Service Academy from 2003 to 2004.

After joining the Foreign Service of Pakistan in 1967, he served on diplomatic assignments in Pakistan Embassies/Missions in several important capitals including Paris( 1969-1971 ), Tripoli( 1971 -1974), Washington( 1974-1978), New York( 1982-1985) and Beijing(1985-1988). He was First Secretary(Political) during his posting at the Pakistan Embassy, Washington, D.C. At the Pakistan Mission to the UN at New York, he served as Counselor and later as Minister. From 1985 to 1988, he served as Minister and the second highest ranking officer in the Pakistan Embassy at Beijing.

Ambassador Javid Husain has also held important assignments at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs including the positions of Director (Afghanistan) from 1978 to 1980 and Director in charge of the Foreign Secretary's Office from 1980 to 1982. He was posted as Director General for the United Nations and Economic Coordination from 1988 to 1991.

From May 1991 to December 1992, he served as the Additional Foreign Secretary/Deputy Foreign Minister. During this period, he supervised the work of the United Nations and Policy Planning Divisions of the Foreign Office besides acting as the Spokesman of the Foreign Office.

In August 1999, Javid Husain was promoted as Ambassador with the rank of Vice Foreign Minister. From January 2003 to March 2004, he was the senior most serving officer of the Foreign Service of Pakistan.

Ambassador Javid Husain has been a member of the Pakistan delegations to a large number of International Conferences and Meetings, notably UN General Assembly sessions, UN Security Council Meetings, Non-Aligned Summit and Ministerial Conferences, Organization of Islamic Conference Summit and Ministerial Meetings and ECO Summit and Ministerial Meetings.

He was born on 3 March, 1944 and in 1959 he joined the Government College, Lahore where he completed his college and University education by getting the degrees of B.A.(Honours) and M.A. in Economics .He had a distinguished academic record securing high positions in the Board and the Punjab University examinations.

Since his retirement from the Foreign Service of Pakistan, Ambassador Javid Husain keeps himself busy in academic pursuits including delivering lectures at prestigious institutions and writing papers/articles on foreign policy issues. He specializes in UN affairs covering human rights, disarmament and international security issues, regional economic cooperation, Economic Cooperation Organization, OIC and Pakistan's external relations with major powers and neighbouring countries.

Ambassador Javid Husain is married and has two children, a daughter and a son. He is a keen reader of books on UN affairs, international politics, international and regional economics and Pakistan's foreign affairs. During his free time, he plays tennis and badminton.

Ambassador Javid Husain represented Pakistan in the ECO Eminent Persons Group which had been mandated by the Organization in 2003 to look into ways and means of improving the ECO's efficiency and effectiveness in the achievement of its goals and objectives. He was also a member of a select group of scholars who represented Pakistan at the International Seminar on the Revitalization of OIC which was held at Islamabad from 1-2 June, 2004. At the end of January, 2005, he attended the African Union Summit at Abuja, Nigeria as the Special Envoy of the President of Pakistan to convey to African leaders Pakistan's point of view on the reform and expansion of the UN Security Council.

Ambassador Javid Husain, during his posting at the Pakistan Mission to UN, New York from 1982 to 1985 dealt with the Security Council and the First and the Third Committees of the General Assembly. Later, as Director General at the Pakistan Ministry of Foreign Affairs from 1988 to 1991, he supervised all matters relating to the UN and its subsidiary/affiliated organs. Subsequently, as Additional Foreign Secretary/ Deputy Foreign Minister from 1991 to 1992, he was in charge of all policy matters relating to Pakistan's relations with the UN. Since then, he has maintained his interest in UN affairs. Thus, Ambassador Javid Husain carries rich experience of the UN and its affiliated /subsidiary organs.

In addition, his postings at the Embassy of Pakistan, Beijing and as the Ambassador of Pakistan to South Korea exposed him to the complexity of strategic, political and economic factors influencing the evolving situation on the Asian mainland, especially in East Asia. His six-year long assignment as the Ambassador of Pakistan to Iran and the Pakistan Permanent Representative to the Economic Cooperation Organization enabled him to study closely the process of regional economic cooperation and the strategic developments in the region.
