Recent Development of China Practice on Cyber Security

Mr. SHI Xiansheng, Deputy Secretary General, Internet Society of China

Contents

Ⅰ. Internet Development in China

Ⅱ. Cyber Security Challenges

Ⅲ. Practice on Cyber Security

Ⅳ. Conclusion

- Establishment

Internet Society of China (ISC) was established on 25th May, 2001. It has more than 400 members, which are legal companies, research institutes, academic associations, universities and other organizations that are engaged in various activities related with Internet.

The Missions of ISC is to serve the members, to promote the development of Internet in China, and to provide support for policy-making.

http://www.isc.org.cn

Ⅰ.Internet Development in China
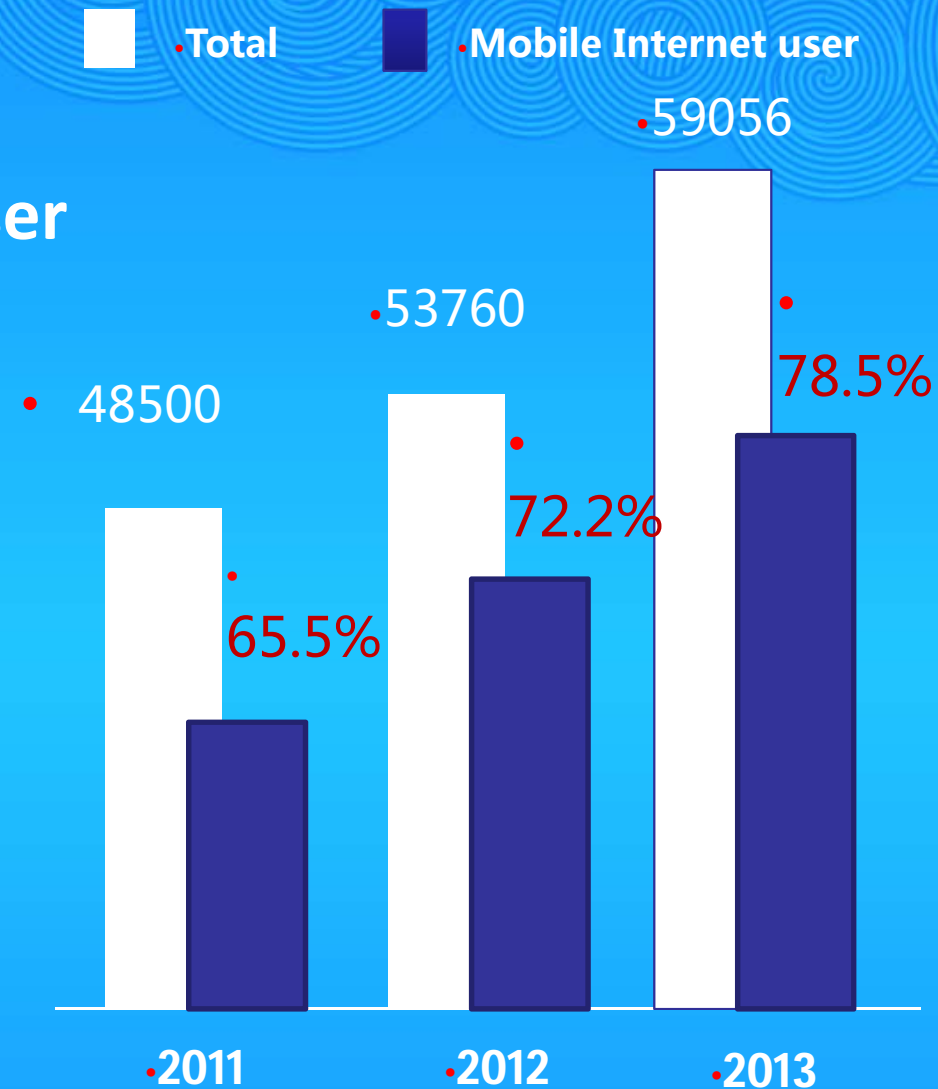

1.Continuous growth of Internet user

At the end of June 2013:

•Internet user:

591 million, added 26.56 million in half year

•Mobile Internet user:

464 million, 78.5% of the total user

Total   Mobile Internet user

59056

53760

48500

65.5%   72.2%   78.5%

2011   2012   2013

4

http://www.isc.org.cn

2. Websites

At the end of June 2013 :

·Website reached 2.94 million, growth rate 9.6%

·News portal websites visitor reached 34.61 million per day

·B2B e-commerce websites: 11,350
·B2C, C2C and other: 24,875

·294

·250

· 183

·2011   ·2012   ·2013

http://www.isc.org.cn

China is facing many serious cyber security challenges and has become the biggest world's victim of cyber attacks.

- Malware/mobile malware
- Website backdoor
- Trojan or Botnet
- Phishing, IP from oversea

http://www.isc.org.cn

- Government Efforts

  Legislation, Dialogue & Meeting, International Cooperation

- Industrial actions

  Strategy Collaboration

- ISC's initiatives

  Education & Training, Self-regulation, Bilateral Cooperation

http://www.isc.org.cn

Ⅳ. Conclusion

Calling for enhancing cooperation and bearing the responsibilities together in the face of cyber security threats and challenges.

Calling for international community to jointly and actively combat all kinds of cyber crimes, speed up the formulation of international norms on information security, and oppose conflicts in the cyber space.

Thank You

Contact ISC ： isc@isc.org.cn